Photos uploaded into the member headshot image will be reduced to 100 pixels wide for display on the profile. Yet when clicked, the headshot image will open in a new window and display the image up to 500 pixels.

Photos uploaded to a group homepage, or your member profile photo album will be reduced to 600 pixels wide if the uploaded photo is wider than this size. If you are able to edit photos to be of this width before uploading, it will eliminate the pixelated look that comes from image size reduction.
